JORETTA WHITENER, Editor-in-Chief

FOREWORD

As you look back on the intriguing experience of attending the circus, you remember the thrills and gasps of astonishment at the feats of the performers. It is our hope that in future years this annual will recall cherished memories of the "big top," Hickory High School, and the "performers," you.

The Editor

DEDICATION

Music is the heartbeat of the "big top," so to the one who adapts his skill to our activities as the bandmaster synchronizes his music to the circus routine, we dedicate this 1949 Log.

The highest of the higher
Are the marshals of our school,
Their work is none but excellent
And they follow every rule.

Someday you'll see their names in print
For some outstanding deed they've done;
We should look up to them as guides—
Their battle's won, ours just begun.

All Twiggers and Loggers are hard at work
Getting ready for the big event;
The Homecoming game is a very hard task,
And by that day their backs are bent.

But all in all it was loads of fun,
All honors they start to gain;
They've tired looks, but the pride and praises
Tell them it wasn't in vain.

All A's and B's we make each term,
We strive to go up high,
Ever pushing upward, onward,
Until we reach the sky.

We try to set good standards
For other ones we know,
To build a better, smarter school;
These are the seeds we sow.

They work to help all those in need,
For victims here and there;
For servicemen in hospitals
And children they do care.

To school children in other lands
They send all kinds of gifts and toys;
It makes no difference what their race,
They share with all the girls and boys.

P. T. A. REPRESENTATIVES

The representatives of each home room
Attend the meetings of the P.T.A.
They aid our parents with their problems
Of every type and way.

They assist in the work of the organization
For which our parents strive.
They're a boom and a blessing
In the association membership drive.

Do, me, so, do,
 Up the scale we go.
Do, so, me, squeak,
 Correct notes we seek.

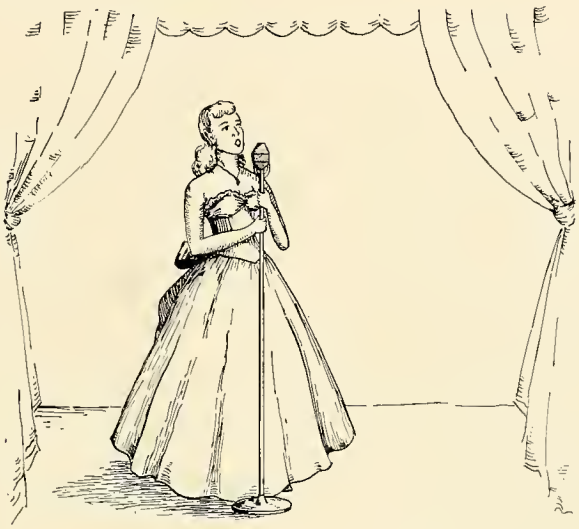

Try as hard as we can
 In this beautiful song,
The boys go flat,
 And the girls are wrong.

But a public performance
 Is a joy to hear and see,
For the pitch is correct,
 And there's perfect harmony.

Music, music, everywhere,
 Golden discords fill the air.
Flute and clarinets go wrong
 While big bass horns drown out the song.

 Get hep and keep in time.
Beat those drums, toot those horns;
 Come on—let's get in rhyme.

With manners and manners "galore"—

They're a people who'll continue to rise.

Baste up, then sew,

Stitch back, seam up,
Fit to, then hem,
Be sure that it's exact.

Perspire, and groan,
But before you know it
Your garment's sewn.

AMERICAN LEGION JUNIOR TEAM

N. C. STATE CHAMPIONS

Two games away from the Little World Series—Hickory's American Legion Junior Team lost to Jacksonville, Florida, and the "Long Horns" from Austin, Texas! Under the capable coach, Troy Washam, they played like the Cleveland Indians, in winning the State and Regional Four Championships and going to Charleston for the Southeastern Sectional Tournament. With one down and two to go, Hickory didn't get the breaks. Some say that it was playing two games in one day—all we say is that it was a great team but a black cat must have stepped in front of Coach Washam and his boys.

Quoted by one of the players on the team as to why they lost—"It rained."

SNAPSHOTS

Whoever heard of a picnic in Miss Greever's room? Well! It happened. It surely seems as if the students are enjoying Mrs. Miller's fine lunches. Confidentially we are, too! Hey, were you there the first day of school, maybe? Oh, what a mass of people. Have you noticed the regular meeting places of Mary Ann and Emmett; Carolyn and Jack; Betty Sue and Harry?

Who shall forget the Homecoming Parade!
Miss Shuford's float (the horse)
The elephant which Biggerstaff made with no connection whatsoever
Betty Sue, Queen of it all—the Powder Bowl—
Red Riding Hood who was afraid of "the Log" instead of the Wolf
The witch with her stew—the band all in line—
And the funeral to end it all.

Remember one of the big social events of the year—The teas—given for the teachers. Boy, were the teachers ever snazzy, dressed in their Sunday best. And such poise and dignity—so different from that of school. Miss Dixon and Mrs. Luper were the belles of the party in their fall ensembles. Yes, by the looks on their faces, they had a wonderful time.

The "Stardust Ball"!!! It will live in the hearts of Juniors and Seniors for a long, long time. Ooh! Were those chicks ever "classy" in those "snazzy" gowns of the '48 style. And all the boys were Junior John Lunds. Do you recall the steadies present; Cooter and Ellen; Joe and Dottie; Bill and Peggy. Everyone agreed this was the best ball of all.

THE GANG'S ALL HERE

Funny faces, all with different expressions and gestures, caught the camera's lens as gangs came and went through-out Hickory Hi. Dunlap's healthy outfit shows a pleasing sight of T-shirts and shorts!! Registration took the limelight as Nancy, Polly, and Shirley were seen working out class schedules. Other school scenes included tea for teachers, good ol' team spirit, and toping the funniest of all faces, that handsome Jack "Woofie" Robeson.

SUDDENLY IT'S SPRING

Familiar faces finishing four years of hard and unforgetable work pictures our Senior Class. Graduation practice was fun but left many at the actual happening with watering eyes and many fond memories. Presentation of the new flag and Driver's Training Car headed the year's events. High honors went to class speakers Jo and Joel; Chief Marshals Betty and Don; and Boy and Girl of the Year, that "loving" couple, Hazel and Bob.
